NTU'S INDUSTRIAL IMMERSION FOR MARITIME STUDIES STUDENTS – URGENT!

As part of the Nanyang Technological University (NTU) course curriculum, Year 3 Maritime Studies undergraduates have to undergo a 10-week Industrial Immersion before proceeding on to their 4th year of studies and will not be able to graduate if they do not undergo industrial attachment. For further details of the course, please visit http://www.ntu.edu.sg/cee/program/bsc_maritime.asp.

There are about 80 Maritime Studies students to be placed in the industry for attachment from 10 May 2010 to 17 July 2010 but places offered by maritime companies so far still fall short despite the efforts in reaching out to the relevant companies. We seek your urgent support in offering them a position.

Please click on the link for more information on the NTU Industrial Immersion program and registration forms:

Participating companies can submit your proposed projects/attachment job description to NTU directly by 22 Mar 2010. Once the submitted projects are approved by the School, the NTU will publicise them to the students to apply using their online attachment system. Your company's coordinator will be given access to view the student applications online to shortlist suitable candidates for interview, if required.

If you have any queries about this attachment programme, please contact:

Your support is greatly appreciated for the benefit of the maritime industry for years to come.
