Future-Ready Shipping Conference 2017

A Joint Singapore-IMO International Conference on Maritime Technology Transfer and Capacity-Building

25 - 26 September 2017

Grand Copthorne Waterfront Hotel, Singapore

While great technological strides have been made towards enabling sustainable shipping, a gap between such advances and their wide-scale user implementation remains. Jointly organised by the Maritime and Port Authority of Singapore and the International Maritime Organization, the 2nd edition of the Future-Ready Shipping Conference, will again gather maritime leaders with a view to catalysing information exchange and fostering a culture of cross-boundary collaboration. The Conference aims to identify priority areas for international action on maritime technology cooperation and capacity-building and encourage an exchange of best practices and ideas in technology transfer initiatives. It will showcase existing technology collaborations among various stakeholders and present sustainability journeys of ship owners, port authorities and terminal operators.
