➔ The Baltic Exchange in Singapore, One Year On by Mr Chris Jones, Head of The Baltic Exchange Asia-Pacific

With SGX's 2016 acquisition of the London headquartered Baltic Exchange, it has allowed The Baltic Exchange to grow its footprint across Asia. One year on, we explore the opportunities for Maritime Singapore and how it will play a part of the overall IMC 2030 Strategy of Expanding and Deepening of the Maritime Sector.

Learning Objectives:

- About the Baltic Exchange
- Why/What/How the Baltic Exchange agreed to the SGX acquisition
- Where we are today
- Looking ahead and what it means for Singapore

➔ IMC 2030 by Mr Andreas Sohmen-Pao, Chairman of IMC 2030 Committee

In August 2016, the Maritime and Port Authority of Singapore (MPA) established the IMC 2030 Advisory Committee comprising industry leaders from diverse fields to undertake a strategic review, dovetailing with Singapore's wider economic restructuring efforts. In this session, we learn about Singapore's achievements as an IMC to date, identify key trends which may impact future IMC competitiveness, and recommendations to take Singapore's IMC to 2030 and beyond.

Learning Objectives:

- Key findings of the IMC 2030 Report
- Recommendations for Singapore as an IMC
