The Global Maritime and Shipping Industry: Challenges and Transformation over the Next Decade

We are pleased to invite you to a special lecture titled “The Global Maritime and Shipping Industry: Challenges and Transformation Over The Next Decade” by Mr Koji Sekimizu, Secretary-General Emeritus of the International Maritime Organization (IMO) and RSIS-MPA Distinguished Visiting Fellow. The lecture is jointly organised by the MPA Academy, the S.Rajaratnam School of International Studies and the Ministry of Transport.

Mr Sekimizu will share his views on the key challenges and forces of transformation that will be faced by the global maritime industry over the next 10 years.

Mr Koji Sekimizu

Secretary-General Emeritus of the International
Maritime Organization (IMO) and RSIS-MPA
Distinguished Visiting Fellow

He will also touch on the lessons to be learnt from past developments, such as continual accidents of bulk carriers; passenger ship casualties in domestic voyages; regulations that allowed life extension by structural modifications; place of refuge or safe haven; developments in industry and maritime governance, and more.

Mr Sekimizu will also look at the various challenges ahead, including reduction in maritime casualties; implementation of IMO conventions; further measures to reduce CO2 emissions from ships; Maritime Autonomous Surface Ships (MASS); E-navigation and Marine Electronic Highway (MEH); sustainable Maritime Transportation System, and also the support for IMO activities.

The event will be moderated by Ambassador Ong Keng Yong, Executive Deputy Chairman, S.Rajaratnam School of International Studies and Ambassador-at-Large at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Date : 25 September 2018, Tuesday
